Did you know the Swim can help alter the impact of financial stress for a cancer patient?

Stop and think for a moment. What would life look like for a single working father, just 40 years old, receiving a cancer diagnosis? This patient was extremely grateful for the financial assistance he received through the Swim Across the Sound and shared his gratitude stating, "As a cancer fighter, I wake up each day and not only struggle with the physical and psychological issues that come with treatment, but I am also constantly worried about my family and the financial burden this is having on everyone's life. I can't describe the impact this support has had on my life and how grateful I am. Because of Swim Across the Sound, I can concentrate on just continuing to fight for myself and for my family."

With support from you and others who choose to participate as a participant, sponsor or donor, Swim Across the Sound can continue to help ease the financial burden of cancer patients for years to come.

The Swim's mission is to help individual cancer patients and their families on a case-by-case basis with specific needs, so that patients can concentrate on feeling better and family members can concentrate on caring for their loved ones. The donations made to the Swim do not go towards research. Funds go to help families impacted by cancer in our communities where it can make the biggest impact. Thank you for being part of the Swim family.

Warm regards,

The Swim Committee
